Some Time.

Sometime, when all life's lessons have been learned,
And sun and stars forevermore
have set,
The things which our weak judgments here have spurned,
The things o'er which we grieved with lashes wet,
Will flash before us out of life's dark night,
As stars shine most in deeper tints of blue;
And we shall see how all God's plans were right,
And how what seemed reproof was love most true.
And we shall see how, while we frown and sigh,
God's plans go on as best for you and me;
How, when we called, He heeded
not our cry,
Because His wisdom to the end
could see;
And even as prudent parents disallow
Too much of sweet to craving babyhood,
So God, perhaps, is keeping from us now Life's sweetest things, because it seemeth good.
And if, sometimes, commingled
with life's wine,
We find the wormwood and rebel
and shrink,
Be sure a wiser hand than yours or mine
Pours out the portion for our lips
to drink,
And if some friend we love is lying low,
Where human kisses cannot reach
his face,
Oh, do not blame the loving Father
so,
But bear your sorrow with obedient grace.
And you shall shortly know that lengthened breath
Is not the sweetest gift God sends his friends,
And that, sometimes, the sable pall of death
Conceals the fairest boon His love can send.
If we could push ajar the gates of life
And stand within and all God's working see,
We could interpret all this doubt and strife.
And for each mystery could find a key.
But not today; then be content, poor
hearts;
God's plans like lilies pure and white, unfold;
We must not tear the close-shut
leaves apart—
Time will reveal the calyxes of
And if, through patient toil, we reach the land Where tired feet with sandals loosed, may rest,
When we shall know and clearly understand,
I think then we shall say that
"God knew best."
—Mary Riley Smith.
H. T. Cooperider and family have moved to Nevada, Mo., where Mr.
Cooperider will be engaged in the poultry business. They are excellent people and their many friends here wish them well in their new home.
"Father, which star is yours?"
asked Kitty. "What do you mean?"
"Well, we were looking at the stars last night, and Mary pointed to one and said, "That is Mars," and I thought that if mother owned one you must have one also."
